"Given the dramatic consequences of the termination of the "Full-form Supply Agreement" between REC Silicon ASA's wholly owned subsidiary, REC Grade Silicon LLC, and Hanwha Solutions Corporation's wholly owned subsidiary, Hanwha Q Cells Georgia, Inc. ("Hanwha") in January 2025 for REC Silicon ASA's financial position, the terms and conditions of the agreement, and the circumstances leading to Hanwha's unilateral termination, we request that these matters be investigated pursuant to shareholders' rights under Section 5-7 and Section 5-11 of the Norwegian Public Limited Liability Companies Act (Allmennaksjeloven). Issues to be clarified by the investigation shall include (but are not limited to):

- the specifications of the polysilicon which should have been supplied by REC Grade Silicon, LLC pursuant to the Supply Agreement;
- the conditions under which Hanwha was allowed to terminate the Supply Agreement;
- the identity, location and qualifications of the entity which tested the polysilicon to be delivered under the Supply Agreement;
- whether the testing process was performed as set forth in the Supply Agreement;
- the actual results of the testing process; - whether Hanwha had any commercial relationship with the testing entity;
- whether Hanwha was in a position to exercise influence over the testing process;
- whether REC Silicon ASA complied, timely, with its information disclosure requirements in relation to the circumstances which led to Hanwha's termination of the Supply Agreement;
- whether the terms and conditions of the "Transaction Agreement" associated with the voluntary offer from Anchor AS constituted a breach of the principle of equal treatment of shareholders;
- whether Hanwha, its subsidiaries, or its agents engaged in coercion or undue pressure on the Board of Directors in general, and on the Board elected at the June 2025 General Meeting in particular;
